

CàMaiol

A wine, a region, a taste of excellence

Ca'Maiol is a winery in a unique grape-growing zone, favored by the lake and soil of the Lugana region on the southern shore of Lake Garda. This place is where the Trebbiano di Lugana vines have always produced the most satisfactory results. The story of Cà Maiol has always been linked to the Lugana DOP and has succeeded in understanding the terroir's potential. This is mainly thanks to the vision and passion for new challenges from entrepreneur Walter Contato who, in 1967, founded this estate.

The indissoluble link between wine and its terroir

Lugana is an outstanding white wine that gets its distinctive characteristics from its native land. With its generous climate and clay-influenced soil, Lake Garda's southern shore is the ideal habitat to grow the indigenous Trebbiano di Lugana or Turbiana grape, a varietal that shows the affinity between a wine and its region.

Custodian of tradition

Walter Contato and other local vine-growers founded over 50 years ago the Producers' Consortium for Lugana DOC. Creating a consortium resulted from his love for this land and the highly-prized wines of the region. The Consortium has proven to be an invaluable organization that protects and promotes this white wine excellence from Lake Garda.
